The College of Charleston promises to assist the State of South Carolina in attracting and retaining the brightest and best students as its next generation of teachers. Teaching Fellows develop into educational leaders, and add to the pool of outstanding South Carolina teachers for all of the state's children.

The Teaching Fellows Program is designed to provide students with an environment that promotes learning and growing with a group of individuals who intend to teach in South Carolina. The College of Charleston Teaching Fellow Program, in addition to the enriched curriculum, provides future teachers with a community, professional development, and involvement in the community.
